
New Era Roofs

Homeowner Discovery Form

Homeowner Name: _____ Date: _____

Start here — before the FORM questions (don't write it down):

| “So tell me — what’s new with you guys?”

FORM = Family / Occupation / Recreation / Motivation — work from what you see in the home.

Discovery

“How long have you owned the home — and who else is part of a decision like this with you?” (pause — surfaces the players)

“What’s the long-term plan for the home — is this the forever home, or a step to something else?” (silence)

“What has brought me here today — and how long has the issue been going on for?” (pause, and probe)

“What’s stopped you from getting this done already?” (silence)

“When the roof is complete, what do you want to make sure you never worry about again?” (silence)

★ Write this one VERBATIM. Their exact words here are what you read back at the Final Bridge (Step 8) to trigger “that’s right.”

“Who else’s opinion matters to you on a decision like this?” (silence — catches the hidden third party)

“When would you like this project to be completed?” (silence)

“Have you thought about how you’re going to fund this project — do you have money set aside, or would you like to see our promotional funding?”

Transition

| “I’ve asked you a lot of questions — what questions do you have for me before I get up there?”

“Would it be alright with you if I got up there, showed you exactly what I found, and walked you through what it’ll take to handle this the right way?”

“Great — do you have about 30–40 more minutes? Do you have to take a call, go somewhere, etc.?”

GoodLeap / Soft Pull Transition

"Now, before I investigate the possible challenges on your roof, I want to make sure we're not wasting your time or mine. Let me pull up what you can potentially qualify for through GoodLeap — it's a soft pull, zero impact on your credit score, and it takes two minutes. That way, when I come back with numbers, I can show you exactly what this looks like out of pocket versus monthly. Sound good?"

[Run the soft pull.]

"Most people are surprised by what they qualify for — especially with the promotional rates we have right now."